The Mighty Multifunctional Mobile Phone!

Are you about to embark on your first mission? Worried it won't be a success? Well look no further, here's the gadget to make you the best of the best. No spy will be without it. The multifunctional mobile phone is the ideal device for all spies, no matter how qualified.

It boasts a host of top level features including:

- A case made from the strongest titanium alloy which is 100% indestructible.
- A detailed villain tracker, containing all their details to help you overcome your enemy.
- The ability to make untraceable calls using a direct line to M.I.5.
- Access to your content via the internet is protected with maximum security. No hackers allowed!

As if this is not enough, the phone also features a hidden taser to stun enemies in seconds, allowing time to render them immobile (but with no life threatening side effects).

However the most essential reason for purchasing this phone, is that it has been fully updated to include all the latest technology. The phone can only be accessed by the owner through the use of voice-recognition software. Ensuring that all documents stored on your phone are secure at all times.

"I love the Mighty Multifunctional Mobile Phone! It's saved me from sticky situations many times. I couldn't function without it," stated James Bond.

Don't delay in purchasing your own Mighty Multifunctional Mobile Phone. Do you want to be the only spy without it? For a limited time only the phone comes with a waterproof rubber case and an infinity charger meaning one phone will last a lifetime. No price is too much to pay for your safety. Is your life worth it? Absolutely!
