School Christian Vision

Through God's love and our Christian Values, we encourage each individual to love, respect and value God, themselves and others.

We encourage and nurture everyone to flourish and grow into the unique person God made them to be, ready to go out into the world to love others.

This is rooted in Jesus' words: Love one another as Jesus loved us. (John 13 v 34-35)

Introduction

At St Mary's CE Primary School, we believe that reading is the key to unlocking a child's potential and fostering a lifelong love of learning. Our reading and phonics policy is designed to ensure that every child develops strong foundational skills in phonics, fluency, and comprehension, enabling them to become confident, independent readers.

We are committed to creating a reading-rich environment where books are celebrated, and children are inspired to read for both purpose and pleasure. Through high-quality phonics teaching, engaging texts, and a whole-school culture of reading, we aim to instil a passion for stories, information, and language that will stay with our pupils throughout their lives.

Policy Aim:

- To develop happy, healthy and curious learners who read confidently and fluently and seek to acquire knowledge independently.
- Help our pupils to develop a lifelong enjoyment of reading taking genuine pleasure from what they read.
- To give our pupils the reading skills they need to access all areas of the curriculum.
- To enable pupils to access, understand and begin to manage information.
- To help pupils begin to understand the meaning of what they read and what is read to them.
- Help pupils make responses to what they read justifying those responses.
- Allow all pupils to use reading to become immersed in other worlds...both real and imagined!

At St Mary's, we consider ourselves a community of readers. Therefore, we expect all adults to model and communicate their love of reading in the following ways:

- At story time or in guided reading lessons – to read with enthusiasm and passion.
- By providing opportunities for independent reading time at KS1 and KS2.
- During incidental shared reading experiences to promote 'reading for pleasure'.
- By providing exciting reading areas or displays of books that inspire our pupils to read.
- By reading with the individual pupils who need our support the most.

Intent

At St Mary's CE Primary School, we believe that all our pupils can become fluent readers and writers. This is why we teach reading through the Little Wandle scheme, which is a systematic and synthetic phonics programme. We start teaching phonics in Reception and follow the progression of

St Mary's CE Primary School Reading Policy

Little Wandle, which ensures children build on their growing knowledge of the alphabetic code, mastering phonics to read and spell as they move through school. As a result, all our pupils are able to tackle any unfamiliar words as they read. We also model the application of the alphabetic code through phonics in shared reading and writing, both inside and outside of the phonics lesson and across the curriculum. We have a strong focus on language development for our pupils because we know that speaking and listening are crucial skills for reading and writing in all subjects. The reading curriculum is ambitious and allows our pupils to become independent and resilient – like all curriculum areas. We want to equip our pupils with all the statutory requirements of the National Curriculum and also prepare them for the opportunities, responsibilities and experiences in the next stage of their education and beyond. We want our pupils to learn from other cultures, respect diversity, co-operate with one another and appreciate what they have. The selection of texts in school have been chosen to fully reflect these aspirations and teachers have also incorporated books from across the whole curriculum, in order to widen the reading experience for each pupil. The development of reading demands two key competences: skilled word reading and good comprehension. The early, rigorous, systematic teaching of phonics in Reception and Year 1 develops the necessary skills to blend and decode words quickly, so that reading becomes automatic and familiar embedding these skills into the long-term memory. To facilitate effective comprehension, teachers expose pupils to a wide range of engaging stories, poetry and non-fiction texts. High-quality discussions and strategies for comprehending texts are taught, so that pupils increase their knowledge of vocabulary quickly in order to gain a better understanding of the materials they read - both in their lessons and also to prepare themselves for their future learning in the wider world. Reading is a high priority at St Mary's School for all pupils and we actively promote and celebrate reading as a vehicle for feeding the imagination, increasing knowledge and ultimately to provide great joy for our children.

Implementation

We have reviewed the reading curriculum as part of the whole curriculum review and have also reviewed phonics teaching in school, in light of the revised Letters and Sounds programme. This review will become an annual task. In this review, the reading and phonics curriculum has been carefully revisited to ensure there is a clear progression. Texts have been carefully planned across year groups, in order to embed key aspects of learning as different genres are taught. Assessment points and milestones are being defined and developed to reflect the key reading skills required in each year group. This will ensure the way reading is taught throughout our school follows a consistent structure. In Early Years and Key Stage One, we have fidelity to the Little Wandle phonics scheme, which provides a strong foundation for teaching comprehension strategies. From Year Two, comprehension skills are further developed by teaching staff systematically teaching the core elements of reading comprehension skills (such as retrieval, prediction etc). In Key Stage 2 pupils enjoy a shared text as part of daily whole-class reading. Pupils are systematically taught skills of comprehension as outlined in the National Curriculum, whilst providing opportunities to help pupils enjoy their books, read for pleasure and develop a love of reading. All pupils experience and enjoy a full range of genres and revisit them throughout their time at St Mary's. The progression of reading skills taught ensures our pupils are skilled readers who are able to engage with a variety of material, read as a source of pleasure and open doors to a full and varied curriculum. For example: the narrative 'Pig Heart Boy' by Malorie Blackman is chosen to link with the year six science topic on circulation in the Autumn Term, whilst in year two, the 'Katie Morag' series of texts by Mairi Hedderwick has been chosen to enhance the geography topic about an island home. At St Mary's, we realise that much of the cultural capital a pupil will experience can be found inside a good book. With that in mind, our teachers and the English Lead are constantly seeking new texts to add to our repertoire. We love to read, and we want our pupils to do just the same!

Impact

We use both formative and summative assessment information in reading lessons. Staff use this information to inform their short-term planning and support, where necessary. This helps us provide the best possible support for all of our pupils, including the more able. The progression document and the assessment points for each year group ensure that skills in reading are progressive and build year on year. Our aim is for staff to use reading formative assessment methods to systematically assess what the children know as the lessons progress and inform their future planning. This formative assessment is then used to inform summative assessment judgements at each assessment point. Summative assessment information in reading is collected three times a year and analysed as part of our monitoring cycle. Phonics summative assessment is completed more frequently. This process provides an accurate and comprehensive understanding of the quality of education in reading and phonics. A comprehensive monitoring cycle is developed at the beginning of each academic year. This identifies when monitoring is undertaken. Monitoring in reading includes: lesson visits and/or learning walks, reading records, data, pupil voice and parental views. All of this information is gathered and reviewed. It is used to inform further curriculum developments and provision is adapted accordingly.

At St Mary's CE Primary School, we are READERS!

Teaching and learning

Reading is a multi-strategy approach to understanding the written word. It is not simply the decoding of black marks on the page but involves the ability to read with understanding a wide range of different texts, including fiction, non-fiction, real world texts such as labels, captions, lists and environmental print. Competence in reading is the key to independent learning and therefore the teaching of reading should be given a high priority by all staff. Success in reading has a direct effect on progress in all areas of the curriculum and is crucial in developing pupils' self-esteem, confidence and motivation.

Pupils should:

- Develop the ability to read aloud fluently and with expression
- Develop the ability to read for meaning
- Develop the skills required for the critical reading of texts
- Be encouraged to read a wide range of fiction, poetry and non-fiction materials
- Be taught a range of strategies for reading.

Curriculum Organisation:

Daily Phonics Lessons in Reception Class and Year 1

Phonics lessons take place on a daily basis and are discrete lessons led by trained staff. We teach phonics for 30 minutes a day.

St Mary's CE Primary School Reading Policy

In Reception, we build from 10-minute lessons, with additional daily oral blending games, to the full-length lesson as quickly as possible. Each Friday, we review the week's teaching to help pupils become fluent readers. Pupils make a strong start in Reception: teaching begins in Week 2 of the Autumn term.

At St Mary's we follow the Little Wandle Letters and Sounds revised systematic and synthetic phonics programme (SSP) (See appendix 1&2 for the programme overview.)

Pupils in Reception are taught to read and spell words using Phase 2 and 3 GPCs, and words with adjacent consonants (Phase 4) with fluency and accuracy.

Pupils in Year 1 review Phase 3 and 4 and are taught to read and spell words using Phase 5 GPCs with fluency and accuracy.

Pupils are taught in their age groups at the appropriate phase. Pupils who fall behind have additional 'keep-up' sessions. Pupils with severe and complex needs may need to work on a different phase to match their needs.

These lessons are quick, engaging, pacey lessons that follow the recommended approach:

- 1) Revisit and review prior learning
- 2) Teach and practise – new grapheme-phoneme correspondences / skills of blending, reading tricky words
- 3) Practise and application of new CGP and prior learning to read a sentence and spell words
- 4) Read decodable books.

Pupils who have completed the Little Wandle Programme will progress onto phase 6 in Year 2. Those who have not completed the programme will continue with the programme until they do so.

Daily Phonics Lessons for pupils who are at Phase 6 (Year 2)

We continue to follow the Little Wandle to teach phonics in Year 2 with daily lessons led by trained staff. For those pupils on track at the end of Year One, this means following a phase 5 review. This goes hand-in-hand with the daily teaching of reading, aimed at building fluence and strengthening comprehension strategies.

For those pupils who did not meet the required standard at the phonics Screening Check, additional phonics intervention sessions are timetabled for these pupils to meet the required standard when they re-sit the Phonics Screening Check.

Shared Reading

In shared reading the teacher's role is to make overt what good readers do and encourage pupils to be actively involved in reading in the moment. During shared reading the pupils can access a text which may be challenging to them individually. Reading skills and strategies should be clearly modelled, and discussion should help pupils to deeper understanding of the text. Shared reading should have a specific focus and all abilities should be included in discussions by differentiated questions. Shared reading should ideally take place within the daily English lesson and also through the reading of information texts related to other curriculum areas. At St Mary's, a 'hook' lesson accompanied by a specific text might be used at the early stages of a unit of literacy work in order to engage the pupils and further enhance their love of reading.

Practise Reading: Teaching reading in Reception and Year 1

We teach pupils to read through reading practice sessions three times a week.

These:

- are taught by a fully trained adult to small groups of approximately six pupils.
- use decodable books matched to the pupils' secure phonic knowledge using the Little Wandle Letters and Sounds Revised assessments and book matching grids
- are monitored by the class teacher, who rotates and works with each group on a regular basis.

Each reading practice session has a clear focus, so that the demands of the session do not overload the pupil's working memory. The reading practice sessions have been designed to focus on three key reading skills:

- decoding
- prosody: teaching pupils to read with understanding and expression
- comprehension: teaching pupils to understand the text.

In Reception these sessions start in Week 4. Pupils who are not yet decoding have daily additional blending practice in small groups, so that they quickly learn to blend and can begin to read books.

Once practised in school this is then sent home for further practice at home to develop fluency.

Teaching Reading from Year 2 to Year 6

In Year 2, staff ensure that pupils read at least once per week in a shared or practise reading group. This may be more frequent depending upon need. These are recorded by staff in the child's Green Reading Record Book. When practicing reading, texts are chosen to match the ability of the class or group, but still provide an element of challenge. This reading provides a forum for pupils to demonstrate what they have learnt about reading; the focus for the reading is concerned with extending strategies/ objectives that all pupils need in order to fully understand what they have read.

Some pupils continue with reading practice sessions three times a week as part of the Little Wandle Rapid Catch Up and Reading Fluency Programmes.

Teachers refer to specific year group expectations when questioning pupils about their reading. As pupils progress through school, teachers increasingly plan to deliver whole-class reading sessions where they feel it is appropriate. In these sessions - specifically from Year 3 upwards - class teachers carefully select texts from a range of genres and aim to teach pupils through a range of question content domains, which at St Mary's we call the 'Reading Gems'. In these lessons, pupils are expressly taught how best to answer the full range of question-types that are required by the National Curriculum.

St Mary's CE Primary School Reading Policy

The question-types (content domains) are listed below:

KS2:

- 1) Define
- 2) Retrieve
- 3) Summarise
- 4) Infer
- 5) Predict
- 6) Relate
- 7) Explore
- 8) Compare

Specific guidance has been produced for teachers to access regarding the best approaches to teaching reading comprehension using the 'Reading Gems' method:

DAY 1	Explore the text chosen, discuss, make predictions, 'immerse' in text.
DAY 2	Same text – teacher models an answer. Pupils have a go at the question.
DAY 3	Same text (or different as teacher decides) Pupils try the question type independently
DAY 4	Full range of 'READING GEMS' questioned
DAY 5	Reading for pleasure. (Could be accompanied by the teacher, who also models reading for pleasure on this day)

All content domains are covered regularly. It is designed to also cover the type of question – how it appears in KS2 SATs (eg multi-choice, circle, find & copy etc) This allows class teachers to focus on areas of concern for further development and the rehearsal technique allows for deeper learning and further practise.

Teachers use guided reading books in class – the work is often peer-marked or self-marked and the teacher monitors effectiveness. Any readers requiring extra or alternative 'reads' may do so in extra small group or in 1:1 reads.

Teachers plan for independent reading activities during sessions of Literacy teaching. Texts are selected so that pupils can access them without support. The focus for the reading is to provide opportunities to practise and to develop personal response to text.

Many other opportunities are provided for pupils to practise and extend reading in other subjects. Pupils select texts from choice or under the guidance of the teacher for independent and home/school reading, depending on their abilities. They are encouraged to take a range of text types. Teachers monitor independent reading. Where pupils are working below age appropriate objectives they will be given more opportunities to read to an adult either individually or as a member as a small group.

Reading at home is regarded as an important part of reading development. Parents and children are encouraged to respond to books using home reading records.

Reading Frequency/Home Reading

Home reading in Reception and Year 1

The decodable reading practice book is allocated weekly for home reading using an e-book system to ensure success is shared with the family. We encourage all home reading to be recorded in Green Reading Record books. 'Shared reading books' also go home weekly for pupils and parents to share and read together. We invite Reception and Year 1 parents to annual information evenings to engage our families and share information about the teaching of early reading and phonics, the benefits of sharing books, how pupils learn to blend and other aspects of our provision.

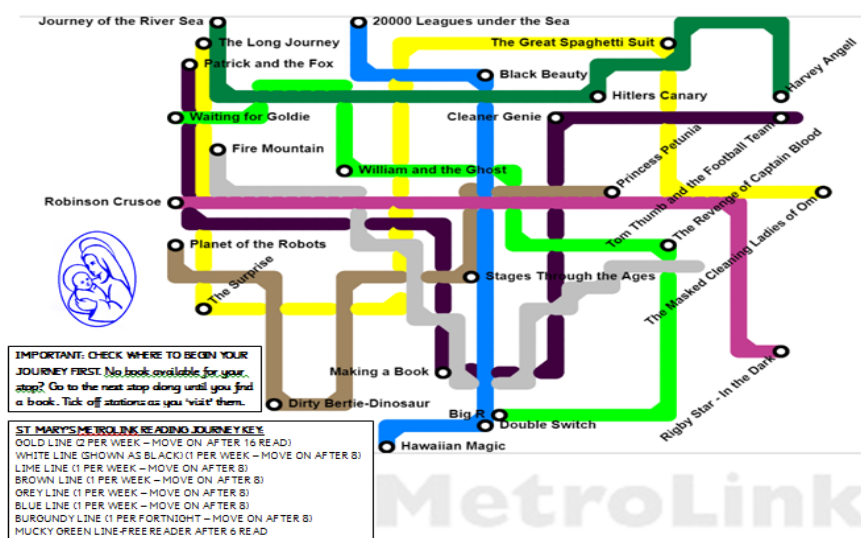

Home Reading in Year 2

School uses decodable texts until children complete the phonics screening programme and have met the expected standard in the Phonics Screening Check. Pupils will then move towards a whole school reading scheme. We encourage all home reading to be recorded in Green Reading Record books.

In Key Stage 2

All pupils are responsible for changing their reading books and are expected to read at home at least three times per week. This is monitored closely by class teachers. All pupils are in a weekly reading practise group or read as a whole-class with their teacher as part of the 'Reading Gems' process for practising reading. According to need, some pupils may still be heard to read individually by an adult to accelerate progress.

For KS2 pupils, the launch of St Mary's 'Reading Metro Map' (Autumn 2019) is a further vehicle for encouraging pupils to see themselves as being on a 'reading journey', so that they become lifelong readers who choose to read for pleasure. Below is a 'virtual metro map' of reading in KS2 with books which have organised from white band through to green. The vision is that pupils will take increasing responsibility for their own reading choices and will move along their 'line' until the class teacher agrees that it is time for them to move onto the next 'line' or book colour. Each book is represented as a 'station' to visit on their journey and is clearly mapped out both on the pupil's individual 'line' sheet and there is also a large-scale display in the school library that clearly identifies the 'journey' each child is on. Further details are available in Google Drive and a copy of the 'overview' map is shown below:

Resources

All classrooms have a well-stocked book area with a range of fiction and non-fiction texts. Pupils also have opportunities to read magazines, newspapers, information leaflets and ICT texts. The school library is a valuable resource and has been recently restocked with many new and exciting books. Books in the library are displayed to promote and encourage reading and are changed frequently. Other reading resources are kept in classrooms in Foundation Stage and Key Stage 1 and centrally in Key Stage 2.

For our early readers, we use Collins Hub Big Cat E-books to supplement class lessons and pupils access these in school and at home once the appropriate phonics level has been assessed.

All teachers provide a stimulating reading environment, promote book ownership, and recommend books to pupils. Classroom and central displays are language rich.

Reading Materials Include:

Decodable Little Wandle phonics scheme in Reception and Year 1
Oxford Reading Tree – Core Scheme
Rigby Navigator/Explorer
Rigby Rockets
Rigby Stars
Getting Reading Right
Full Sets of real books for use in taught reading practise sessions

Independent Reading

Pupils need to be given the opportunity and encouragement to read independently in order to build confidence, stamina and fluency, as well as develop their experience of a range of books and authors.

From Year 3 onwards, as part of the reading gems approach there are timetabled opportunities for periods of silent, independent reading. Pupils selecting their own choice of texts is an important part of developing pupil independence. Selecting texts motivates readers and helps pupils to develop and discuss their reading preferences, a vital skill for greater depth readers at both key stages. In KS1 and, where appropriate in KS2, pupils will be given a reading book or helped to choose at an appropriate level to take home, together with a reading record. Pupils' individual reading at home will be monitored by staff and supported by classroom assistants. Each time a pupil reads at home, this should be logged by the parent or pupil.

At Key Stage 1, home reading record books will be collected 2 to 3 times per week and signed by an adult to assist the teacher in the monitoring of home/school reading. Wider family involvement supports reading and ensures pupils have access to reading materials at home.

The aim is for all pupils to become 'free readers' – reading completely independently and for pleasure as soon as is possible. St Mary's anticipates that for most of our pupils, by the time they reach the upper juniors, they should be completing the 'metro map' system. At all ages, teachers welcome books that are brought in from home – these can be read by the pupil during their own independent reading time, if they choose to do so.

Birthday Books Scheme

As part of a Healthy School initiative, instead of sweets and chocolates, we invite parents to donate a 'birthday book' to their class bookshelf on the occasion of their child's birthday. This has been a highly successful scheme and ensures our books are continually refreshed and allows pupils the chance to see their choice of book shared among friends in class.

Annual Events and Reading Incentives

At St Mary's, there are many annual events that take place to promote reading during the year. Indeed, we recognise the need to promote reading – and reading for pleasure in particular – at every opportunity. Below is a list – not entirely extensive – of examples:

- An annual 'Reading Evening' held for new parents to help them understand how we teach reading skills at St Mary's. This is held early in the Autumn Term.
- Weekly star of the week celebrated in celebration assembly each Friday – this is often linked to reading or literacy.
- Ongoing opportunities to partake in 'Battle of the Books' competition – 12 books and reviews shared over the course of each school year.
- Annual celebration of 'World Book Day' – dressing up, fun activities such as "the masked reader" and a whole school celebration of reading in all its guises.
- Summer Reading Challenge – St Mary's promotes this each year in conjunction with Oldham Library Service
- Grand Spelling tests / rewards – each half term, celebrated in assemblies
- Regular opportunities to read in whole-school worship, to lead worship and read prayers and readings from the Bible. Chances to link drama and reading in class-led assemblies and services throughout the year.
- Annual Scholastic Book Fair -visits school at least once a year and is run over the course of an entire week.

In conclusion, staff will at every opportunity recognize the importance of teaching reading – not just as a 'life skill', but as a further vehicle to equip our pupils to 'live life in all its fullness'. For each and every child to leave St Mary's an enthusiastic reader is one of our core aims.

Little Wandle Reception Programme Overview

Little Wandle Letters and Sounds Revised: Programme progression

Reception overview

This programme overview shows the progression of GPCs and tricky words that we teach term-by-term. The progression has been organised so that children are taught from the simple to more complex GPCs, as well as taking into account the frequency of their occurrence in the most commonly encountered words. All the graphemes taught are practised in words, sentences, and later on, in fully decodable books. Children review and revise GPCs and words, daily, weekly and across terms and years, in order to move this knowledge into their long term memory.

Children need to learn to read as quickly as reasonably possible, so they can move from learning to read, to reading to learn, giving them access to the treasure house of reading. Our expectations of progression are aspirational yet achievable if schools maintain pace, practice and participation by all children. Children who are not keeping-up with their peers should be given additional practice immediately through keep-up sessions.
