

Futhermore, once on-board, I could not believe the most luxurious state room we were given! The living room and bedroom was just, AMAZING! I'm speechless! You won't believe how comfy the beds were. They had the most shinyist wood walls with the most exquisite decorations on them. There was a screen T.V and everything! The dining room (just down the stairs and on the right) was the most fabulous sight ever! It had a 'central staircase' and some pancakes for breakfast! The ~~we~~ best linen lined our beds. At night, when we went down to eat some dinner, Gentlemen wore their finest suits and the Ladies' hair was outstanding and their dresses were so elegant. The music was so fancy and I wish I could stay here forever! Outside, on the deck, there was an outdoor swimming pool! There was also sunbeds and a hot-tub! I loved it! I felt like I was king of the world!

Dear Alice,

This is going to be short. The sight gives me chills and the cold air freezes me. You and Rainbow were the only things I wanted to bring.

The banging and screams seemed like they wouldn't stop. Now-nothing. Shivering. I am constantly shivering.

The boatsman shouts for help. No-one. No listening. No nothing. She is dead. She has drowned. Her beauty has disappeared!

Got to go. Desperate for food and warmth. Bless their souls.
